Practical Book-Keeping

—AT—
Belleville Business College.

Under date of March 3, 1893, Edwin M. S. Young, General Book-keeping Division, Treasurer, Department, Washington, D. C., writes as follows:— (Gentlemen):—A copy of your book, "Practical Book-keeping," has just been received. I have made a thorough examination of the same and find that it contains all the information that is needed for the proper conduct of the business of a book-keeper.
It is a book that should be in the hands of every book-keeper, and it is a book that should be read by every student of book-keeping.

TYENDINAGA RESERVE

From Our Own Correspondent.
Nominations to fill the vacancy caused by the removal of Chief A. P. Pratt were made on Tuesday last at election at the Council House on Tuesday next. The contest will be hot. There are two distinct parties, Walter
A. Pratt is the nominee of one, and Andrew Maracle of the other.

Miss Irene Loft has accepted the position of teacher at the Mission school temporarily.
She commenced work on Monday last.

Brant Council, R. T. of T., at their last meeting passed a vote of thanks to the Rev.
G. A. Anderson for his address on the subject of "Temperance," on Sunday, the 21st of May.

SHANNONVILLE.
From Our Own Correspondent.
Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Earle, of Mackay's Station, are visiting their friends in this village.

Mr. Frank Ross, of Jarvis, formerly of this place, is renewing acquaintances here.

Miss Emma Anderson, of Deseronto, has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. M. B. Lake, during the past week.

Mrs. D. W. Massey, who has been visiting friends in this vicinity, returned to her home at Lakeside this week.

Rev. A. L. Adam, and Mrs. Adam left for Oshawa to attend conference this week.

On Friday eve. last the Epworth League held a Temperance meeting in the M. Church, which was very instructive as well as entertaining.

LONSDALE.
From Our Own Correspondent.
The Patrons of Industry intend holding a concert in McCullough's hall on Thursday evening, June 1st.

Deputy Sheriff Hope, Jailer Appleby and Mr. C. E. Lyons, of Belleville, were in the village on Tuesday.

Miss Edna Mills, of Pictou, spent Sunday in the village.

Rev. T. H. Macdonald left for Oshawa on Wednesday to attend conference.

Farmers are busy with their seedings. They are trying hard to finish.

Rev. T. H. Macdonald met with quite a success on Monday evening. A large number of his first converts came forward.

KINGSFORD

From Our Own Correspondent.
Mrs. Down, who formerly resided with her daughter, Mrs. J. H. McElroy, is quite suddenly ill at the residence of her son-in-law,
Mr. T. Drummy, of the Mohawk Reserve.

Mrs. Jas. Daly, of Campbellville, is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. James Blate, Jr., Messrs. Fitzgerald and Shannon, of Pictou, are canvassing this district for the purchase of cattle, for which they are offering fair prices.

Mr. Wellington is making preparations to spend the summer with his daughter, Mrs. John McElroy, of Jerry City, Ohio.

Now is the season in which the small boy displays all the natural ingenuity and patience of his nature—the former in the invention of games that will take him to the neighborhood of the river, and the latter during the hours he spends on the river waiting for a bite.

Farmers are getting in their crops in quick time this year, and are not being hindered by rain so frequently as formerly.

Miss Maggie McCullough is visiting her sister, Mrs. Jas. Hewitt, of Richmond.

While Mr. G. F. Searns was working in the field his team became frightened and ran away. The horses were both severely cut, and it is doubted whether the one will recover.

Miss M. E. Murphy has accepted a position in the Deseronto Creamery for the coming summer.

ERINSVILLE.
From Our Own Correspondent.
The farmers have about all completed putting in the spring crops.

The Rathbun Company's drive of logs is now running into Beaver Lake. A large quantity of trees and timber will be taken out here and loaded on cars.

James O'Neill, of Reno, Nevada, is here visiting his son and friends after an absence of seventeen years. He finds quite a few changes in Sheffield.

Thomas J. O'Neill, of Shelton, Wash., is also home in Erinsville after an absence of some thirty years.

Thompson & Sons, Peterboro, Ont., have completed their shipments of square timber to the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Mr. M. Brown, Deseronto, has a gang of men engaged erecting large tanks at the White Lake Mill Works.

Mr. Michael Murphy, Jr., has gone to live in Watertown, N.Y.

Mrs. Townsend is very low with cancer and no hopes are entertained for her recovery.

Mrs. J. Baker, of Watertown, N.Y., was here for a few days last week on a visit to her mother, Mrs. Townsend.

Mr. H. C. Close is erecting a large grain barn. The building is forty-eight by eighty feet. Messrs. Donohue & McGarry have the contract.

Several buildings in this vicinity had their roofs more or less damaged by the high winds last week.

Some of the people talk of attending the World's Fair.

CHISHOLM'S MILLS.
From Our Own Correspondent.
Mrs. Charles Fennel is visiting friends and acquaintances in Richmond.

The hurricane on the 23rd of May unroofed the barns of Robert Goodfellow, Jas. Hamilton and Wm. Tracey and made a fine display of milk cans along the road.

We had a lively time in our town last week.
Prof. Brush held his exhibition and trained a lot of fine horses.

Wm. Johnson met with a serious accident on Saturday. While coming from Belleville he stepped at his sister's and while putting out his horse it became frightened and kicked him on the leg, rendering him almost helpless.
It is hoped he will soon be around again.

The river drivers are now camped here it will take them some time for a few weeks.

Joseph Chisholm & Co. are now busy repairing their logs on Sugar's Lake; they have a large number of excellent quality.

We are sorry to say that E. R. Wilson's fine black mare was severely kicked by one of Prof. Brush's horses and will be unable to go on the road for a few weeks.

W. F. Chisholm, who we are sorry to state has been in bad health this spring, is slowly improving.

It is with regret that we announce that Roslin is losing its principal merchant, E. R.
Preston, who has leased a large store on Tweed and has commenced business.

John McElroy, of Plainfield, while helping Chisholm to swing the boom in Sugar's Lake lost his valuable watch in the water. Joe got a ducking in the same day.

Robert Carney, Esq., has purchased a new saw mill which he is moving to his cedar swamp in Hungerford.

DISTRICT ITEMS
Miss M. Madden, of Newburgh, is dead aged 75 years.

John McCarthy, the well known brewer of Prescott, is dead.

Peterboro will have an electric railway in operation next week.

Mrs. A. N. Carcassell, Tanworth, has crucified 125 years old.

R. Williams, Sharbot Lake, lost three fingers in a mill at that place.

Vandals have been destroying boats and apple trees in the vicinity of Mado.

A. B. Appleby, Peterboro, shipped 204 unloaded from the train to Boston.

Geo. Rollins, of the Allan settlement, sustained severe injuries from a runaway.

E. W. Aylsworth, an old resident of Oshawa, and a native of Erinsville, died last week.

Horses, cows and sheep may be seen placidly grazing along the streets of Belleville.

Kingston pilots are angry because government officials have been taking jobs from them.

Arthur Cornell and Noel Penny, two Toronto boys, were badly burned while playing with powder.

John Garagah, Hollowell, gathered from one maple tree, in twenty-four hours, forty imperial quarts of sap.

Very cheap stationery at the THURSDAY office. A large assortment.

Keep Minard's Liniment in the House.

CHURCH OF THE REDEEMER.

A pastoral letter from the Moderator of the General Assembly will be read at the morning service next Sunday.

The theme of the evening service next Sunday will be "The Plague of Egypt."

A letter from the Superintendent will be read at the Sabbath school.

The Y. P. S. C. Endeavour prayer meeting will be held at 8 p.m. Theme "Now and Pay."

The Pastor conducts preparatory services at Trenton this evening.

The were 227 present at the Sabbath school last Sunday afternoon.

METHODIST CHURCH.
Rev. J. J. Rice addressed large congregations last Sunday. In the evening he preached a sermon to the Sunday School children who were present in force.

Rev. J. J. Rice left for Oshawa on Tuesday to attend the Conference, after which he will proceed to Chicago where he will represent the Conference as a delegate to the General Assembly of the Methodist Church in the United States.

The services next Sunday will be conducted by Miss Switzer.

ST. MARK'S CHURCH NOTES.
Last Sunday was Trinity Sunday. The observance of the Octave of Pentecost or Whitsunday, as a separate festival in the calendar of the Church of England, is late institution in the church and apparently has been first formally enjoyed by the Synod of Arles A. D. 1250. Among the symbols of the Trinity are the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit, the three persons in the use of the dove, the lamb and the triangle, the latter sometimes surrounded by rays of glory. The trefol or clover leaf is a natural emblem of the Trinity.

The Three in One. It was the symbol employed, as tradition says, by St. Patrick in teaching this truth

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrup, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Cud, cures Diarrhoea and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.
"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."
Dr. G. C. Osmond, Lowell, Mass.
"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the well interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing upon them morphia, soothing syrup and other harmful agents down their throats, thereby leading them to premature graves."
Dr. J. F. Kneeland, Conway, Ar.

Castoria.
"Castoria is well adapted to children than I recommend it more than any prescription known to me."
H. A. Aschman, M.D., H. G. Osmond, M.D., Brooklyn, N.Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have been known to use Castoria for years, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as 'pink pills,' we have used Castoria for years as a reliable remedy for children."
Dr. J. F. Kneeland, Conway, Ar.

A WORD TO THE WISE.

This verse is intended as a word to the wise,
If you ever use Baking Powder, try "The Surprise."
Of powders there are many of opposition
there's much.
But here is a powder no other can touch,
For flours and pastry it's really a Surprise
To see how lovely and quickly they rise.
The best, did I say? Well, try it and see,
Then your grocer you'll tell, that's the powder for me.

The Medical Press publishes a strong article condemning the "hoop," attended assumed by many bicyclists, and says that the exercise in such a position is an injury instead of a benefit. Local wheelmen should paste this in their hands.

The streets of Deseronto would be about models of cleanliness if people would only refrain from tearing the papers of their garbage and throwing them on the boardwalks and also if a few incorrigibles would not throw slops in the ditches.

Mr. Nicholas Callaghan, Jr., nephew of James Thomas and John Callaghan, died after a lingering illness, on Monday evening,
May 29, at his residence, Campbellford.
He had been in the employ of the Kailburn Company for the past six years acting as stenographer and typewriter for Mr. Thomas Callaghan, superintendent of the Company's business on the Trent waterway. He was an energetic business man and held in general esteem. By his death the company lose one of their most promising young men.

The Belleville Ontario was told by a veterinary surgeon in that city that the disease from which hogs had been dying in large numbers was diagnosed by a celebrated veterinarian as hog cholera, and that the disease was beyond the control of veterinary skill. The only preventive against the disease is when hogs begin to die to bury them at once, kill any others that may show symptoms of the disease bury them also and burn the pen and everything connected with it. Unless this precaution is taken the disease is sure to make great destruction among the porkers this season.

The political pot is boiling on the Mohawk Reserve where an exciting election is being launched to fill the vacancy caused by the Department's removal of A. B. Prant from the position of councillor for alleged misconduct. These local matters are being treated and despite the favorable weather for seeding operations, there was a large attendance of warrior electors. Walter A. Brant and Andrew Macleod were the principal candidates for the coveted position and the claims of the two candidates were eloquently urged by successive advocates. Polling will take place Tuesday, June 6th. The poll clerk elected will hold the balance of power in the council.

The South Hastings teachers' institute held at Belleville last week was more than a success. The institute was held at the Wentworth county, was present and contributed largely to the proceedings. Principal Cole, of the local school, presided and a teachers on general discipline, such as order and neatness in school work, proper method of calling classes together and dismissing them, school sanitation, and the teaching of music. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: John Johnston, president; Miss Urquhart, vice-president; S. C. Stevenson, secretary. The directors were appointed for each mandatory, Mr. G. A. Cole, for Deseronto, Mr.
Nicholas Thurlow, and Mr. Simkins, for Tyndinaga.

Mr. Thos. Naylor has purchased a new soda water fountain and is ready to receive patrons during the hot weather.

John Hanson Craig, of Danville, Indiana, is said to be the biggest man on earth. He weighs 907 pounds and is thirty-seven years of age.

Mr. M. P. Vandervoort, a brother of the Vandervoort, recently passed his law examinations at a barrister and solicitor for Ontario.

There are good prospects for an excellent yield of plums, cherries, currants and berries. It is feared that apples will not be a good crop.

Messrs. Robt. Pearson, N. T. Lowe and others have left for Calabogie Lake to set up the plant which the Rathbun Company are fitting up at that place.

The Cornish passed up the bay on Wednesday, being the first steamer on the Richelieu & Ontario line to make this trip this year between Kingston and Toronto.

The tug Victoria and dredge Queen called at this port yesterday and coaled up before proceeding to Newcastle where the dredge will do some work during the next few weeks.

Bros. E. Lowe, D. D. G. M., and J. D. Monaghan, of Court Quarte, went to Shanville last Saturday evening and installed the officers of Court Shanville, Canadian Order of Foresters.

Mr. John E. Hodgson, Inspector of High Schools, paid an official visit to the Deseronto High school on Wednesday. He expressed himself well pleased with the efficiency displayed by all departments.

The Independent Order Foresters had on May 1st a membership of 45,925, with a reserve fund of $665,911.40. This is a gain of over 9000 in membership and of over $200,000 in the reserve fund in one year.

Mr. Peter Mountney, of the Slash Road, the other day showed us seven duck eggs, some white, others blue, which were of a very large size. One measured 3 1/2 inches and each weighed over three ounces. These are the product of two ducks which go on steadily laying eggs of this size.

The weather during the past week has been most suitable and farmers have been busy seeding. There were a few passing showers on Saturday and Tuesday.

On Wednesday the mercury reached 73° the highest temperature recorded during the past week. Vegetation is making rapid strides.

Dr. Smith delivered his lecture on "Some Boys I Knew" in Union Hall last Friday evening. It abounded in useful lessons and was interspersed with much humor. It is a pity there were not more of the boys and boys in the town present to profit by its inspiring lessons inculcating diligence and perseverance.

Mr. G. A. Strickland, manager of the Lakeside Canning Company, of Peterboro, on Saturday, received a calligram from England, concerning a 10 foot canoe for Princess May, hide elict of H. R. H. the Duke of York. The canoe will be built of the very best material, and is intended to pass anything in the canoe line which has been shipped to England.

Women and Foreign Missions. The Presbyterian Record, of the month of June contains acknowledgments of what is believed to be the largest amount ever acknowledged in one sum for any scheme in the history of the Presbyterian church, viz. the $41,068.70 received as a contribution of the Women's Foreign Missionary society, west, to the foreign mission fund during the year just closed. This society was organized seventeen years ago. The total receipts for the year were more than $4,000 in advance of last year.

Heavy Traffic. The freight coming in to Deseronto is taxing the Bay of Quinte rolling stock to the utmost. The average is thirteen carloads, principally of lumber, to each train and still they come. The side tracks at the junction are much congested and it is all the railway company can do to find room. On Saturday evening a long train of cars loaded with lumber stopped on the Grand Trunk track at the Junction and left early in the morning, the engine leaving at the east pulling nothing but the conductor's van.

Football.

A team of the Deseronto football club go to Napanea to-morrow to play the Napanea club.

Large Cargo.

Rev. J. J. Rice left this week to attend the Methodist Conference which met yesterday in Oshawa. The first draft of the committee gives the following changes of appointments in this vicinity: Deseronto, E. Taylor; Tamworth, J. J. Rice; Lindsay, J. C. Ash; Canifiton, G. W. Gardner; Adolphustown, W. R. Jackson; Bay, W. H. Cook; Selby, F. B. Stratton; Yavel, E. W. Marsh; Bloomfield, O. R. Lambly; Demorestville, L. W. Loth; Marlbank, G. R. Clare; Deseronto, E. H. McDonald; Wellington, T. J. Edmison.

Robbing the Mails.

The mails from Kingston going east and west by the Grand Trunk at midnight are brought out at a late hour of the evening and left in a room at the outer railway station. The room is securely locked. On Tuesday night some daring thieves took out a pane of glass and gained access to the room and by the glare of an electric light outside succeeded in cutting open the bags which they examined in a most systematic manner. All the letters were opened but only the money in about twenty-five registered letters was stolen. The thieves did not take cheques or drafts. It is not known how much booty was secured. The robbers replaced the pane of glass before going away. Members of the railway company on duty heard the thieves at work. It is doubtful who is responsible for the safe keeping of the bags in such a case. Every-one wonders why thieves have never before attempted to steal the bags as it was so easy to do so.

Easy When You Know How.

Cassey was digging a ditch in the street in front of his house for the purpose of making a connection with the sewer. He had a large pile of dirt thrown up in the roadway and he was rapidly increasing it when stopped by a policeman.

"Don't you see Cas' in diggin'?"

"Hov' yer a permit to blockade the street with that pile of dirt?"

"Oh, boy not."

"Thin don't yer know that yer hov' no right to put that dirt there?"

"Cas' O' no wid it, thin?" inquired the puzzled Cassey.

"Oh, jist dig another hole an' tro it in," answered the man of the brass buttons as he sauntered slowly away swinging his club.—Boston Journal.

He Had Missed His Calling.

A Hain Jewer caught a tramp in his office stealing some lawbooks, which the latter intended to pawn. Seizing the intruder by the collar he exclaimed: "You scoundrel, I'll have you tried and railroaded up the Hudson."

"Let go my neck, judge. If you are going to have me tried I'll have you tried on gage you as my lawyer, as you have the luck to be on hand," replied the tramp.

The lawyer was thoughtful for a moment, and then releasing his grip on the intruder's collar replied:

"You can go."

"You would have been an ornament to the profession."—Texas Siftings.

Danger In Licking Stamps.

The connection between a habit of licking the gummed surface of stamps and envelops and an irritated tongue and sore throat is a fact of common knowledge and is never safer to apply them to a wound.—London Lancet.

A WORD TO THE WISE.

This verse is intended as a word to the wise,
If you ever use Baking Powder, try "The Surprise."

Of powders there are many; of opposition
there's much,
But here is a powder no one can touch,
For flannels and powder; it's really a surprise,
To see how lovely and quickly they rise.
The best, I say, is "The Surprise," try it and see,
Then your grocer will tell, that's the
powder for me.

TYENDINAGA RESERVE

From Our Own Correspondent.

The warmest election ever held on the Reserve is over, and Andrew Maracle, the people's candidate, has been elected by a majority of 62 over Walter A. Brant. There are 289 votes, of these 210 cast, 139 for Maracle and 77 for Brant.

Crops are looking well, the meadows all over the Reserve are promising.

It has lately been customary for the chief who receives the largest number of votes to assume the title of Head or Principal Chief.
In this case he carried out Maracle will now have the honor of claiming the title.

Dogs have again been destroying sheep,
John Harvey lost six this week and Elias Martin one.

After the election on Tuesday evening, the contending parties agreed to bury the hatchet, and work harmoniously in the interests of the Band. We hope all were sincere in their proposals.

The funeral of Mrs. James McFarlane on Friday last was largely attended. Service was said at Christ Church, after which the body was taken to Deseronto cemetery for interment.

The semi-annual payments were made on Wednesday and Thursday of this week, $1.42 per head.

SHANNONVILLE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Mrs. Henry Taylor, of Belleville, is the guest of her mother, Mrs. C. E. Clark.

Phelps, of Trenton, was called to attend the funeral of her brother, Mr. Wm.
Earle this week.

Rev. George Gardiner of Albert College took charge of the services at the appointment on Sunday last in the absence of the pastor who is attending conference.

Mr. Wm. Earle, who has been a great sufferer for a long time, passed away peacefully on Saturday last. He was born in Vermont some 68 years ago, came to Canada with his parents when a child and has lived in this village upwards of 40 years, respected and esteemed by all who knew him. He leaves a widow and eight children to mourn the loss of a kind and father. The children are,
Mrs. Wm. Earle, of Mackay's Station,
Mrs. Dr. Hudson, of Roslin, Mrs. A. Hill,
of Deloraine, Man., Mrs. Allen Hayes, of Belleville, Mrs. J. E. Taylor, of North Bay, and Misses Madam, Ada and Emma, who are at home. The funeral took place on Monday and was very largely attended, service being conducted by Rev. Dr. Gardiner, of Belleville, who was an intimate friend of deceased.
The deceased died peacefully just in time to see the burial of his father. The friends have the sympathy of all in their bereavement, but they are comforted by the hope of meeting in the home beyond.

LONSDALE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was celebrated in the Presbyterian church on Sunday. Rev. Jas. Ratnay preached an excellent sermon. There were four new members, three professing and one certificate. Rev. J. Ratnay, Black, of Thurlow, preached at the preparatory service.

Mrs. John Kilpatrick, of Kingston, is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. J. E. Taylor, of Belleville.

Farmers have been making great progress with seedling operations during the recent fine weather.

Mr. F. A. Kilpatrick is canvassing this district as agent of the Sun Life Assurance Company.

MATRIMONIAL.

The Cleveland News contains an account of a very pleasant matrimonial event in which two young people known to many in Deseronto were specially interested. It states that on the evening of May 24th, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Stuart, 1616 Pearl street, was a perfect bower of potted plants and flowers made ready for the solemnization of the marriage of their only daughter, Eva Anne, to Mr. John Schenck, Jr., the highly esteemed foreman of the Schenck-Stevens Printing Co.
and brother to the senior member of the firm.
The ceremony was performed by the Rev. O.
Bagdely, pastor of the Brooklyn M. E.
Church. As the sweet strain of a wedding march played, the bride and groom, escorted by two small pages, Miss Jessie Brown and Master Norman Roy, took their places and marked the bridal pathway. First came the groom escorted by his two groomsmen, Mr.
George Schenck, brother of the groom, and Mr. Wm. R. Stuart, brother of the bride, who were followed by the bride, who was escorted by her two bridesmaids, Miss Myrtle Hawk, of Wellington, Ohio, and Miss Joseph Houlder, of Cleveland. The bridal party stood in a beautiful flower made of festoons of smilax and other flowers with large palms and lilies, while the clergyman performed the rites of matrimony in a pleasing manner. The man and wife. The bride was given away in an ivory satin made empire style, train, and trimmed in seed pearl trimming and lilies of the valley. The bride wore a crown and lilies of the valley. Both bridesmaids were attired in delicate cream gowns and carried sugar, the bride being a grand daughter of Mr. W. F. Stuart, Sr. of St. George street.

TYENDINAGA COUNCIL

Council met on Wednesday, the 17th day of May, 1893, members all being present.

The minutes of last meeting were read and approved.

The statute labor tax of Wesley Reid and John Reid was remitted, the work having been performed by the Indian council.

On motion of Mr. Scott, seconded by Mr.
McAlpine, the appropriations for roads and bridges for the year 1893 were made as follows, Mr. McLaren dissenting, $120 to be expended in each ward, $100 south of Wymans bridge, $50 on the York road if supplemented by the Indian council, $50 for gravel, $50 for road for unforeseen expenses, $100 on Richmond boundary and $20 on Thurlow boundary
if supplemented by the respective councils, making a total of $1,110.

The appropriations for the several wards were made as follows: Ward No. 1, $20 at lot 7, $10 at lot 11 and $20 on lot 13 on concession to be supplemented by Mr. Hanley, $10 on lot 12 on 12 in 1st concession to supplement a grant by Mr. McLaren, $15 between lots 20 and 21 on side road north of York road, $10 on corner of York and King streets in Shannonville, $15 near Michael Kennedy's on 5th concession, $16 on side road between lots 10 and 11 north of side road, $10 on side road between lots 15 and 16 and 17, $7.50 west of side road between lots 20 and 21 in 5th concession, the three last mentioned grants to be supplemented by Mr. Hanley, $10 between lots 20 and 21 on side road between 3rd and 4th concession to supplement a grant by Mr. McLaren, $5 on side road between lots 10 and 11 and $15 on side road between lots 15 and 16 in 5th concession, $10 on side road between lots 20 and 21 in the 6th concession supplemented by Mr. Scott, $20 to open side road between lots 15 and 16 in 6th concession, $5 at lot 4 in 7th concession.

Ward No. 3, $5 in McFarlane's swamp in 7th concession, $5 for approaches to bridge over Park's creek at lot 26 in 8th concession, $10 on hill at lot 25 in 7th concession, $10 on hill at lot 23 in 7th concession, $10 on hill near John Kinner's in 5th concession, $10 on side road north of Reid to supplement grant by Mr. Hanley, $8 near Patrick Ford's and $8 near Michael Kennedy's in 7th concession, $40 on Richmond boundary between the 6th and 7th concessions, $14 at lot 34 in the 6th concession.

On motion a grant of $15 was made to open up a ditch in the 7th concession between lots 4 and 5.

In addition the following accounts were placed on the list for payment:

John Egan, work on side road between lots 15 and 16 in 4th concession, $6; Dr. Redner, medical attendance on Mr. Beveridge, $6;
Mr. McFarlane, township business, $2; the poor on the list their quarterly allowance, $39.

Council adjourned till Friday the 26th day of May, when the following accounts were ordered to be paid:

F. West, treasurer, 3 steel road scrapers, $25, and 24 hammer, $7.50; Peter McTaggart, for job on Richmond boundary, $25;
Chas. Driscoll and Thomas G. Portt, assessors, each $75.

The treasurer was instructed to notify the Collectors that they must settle up their rolls on or before the first day of August next.

Council adjourned till the first Wednesday in August next.

A. B. RANDALL, Clerk.

TYENDINAGA COURT OF REVISION

The members of the Court of Revision for the township convened at the hall,
Melrose, Friday the 26th day of May 1893.

The court being called to order, the members availed themselves of the opportunity evidence touching appeals should be given under oath, when the following appeals against assessments were disposed of.

The assessment of Robt. P. Hamilton,
John Callaghan, Mrs. E. N. Lake,
Timothy Hayes and A. Boulton were sustained, the assessment of D. L. Brown, was reduced $300 on real estate and sustained on personal property. On motion of Mr. Brown, seconded by Mr. McAlpine, D. L. Brown was ordered to withdraw his appeals against the assessments of L. E.
Mills, John Doreen, Arthur Hart, J. S.
Kerr, H. Liddle, Daniel McVicker, D. A.
Combs and E. C. Clapp, all of whom were assessors. Parly was reduced $150 on account of the sale of 47-13-10 acres of land on the rear of lot 5 in the 5th concession to be appraised at the assessment of the

A. B. RANDALL, WM. McLAREN, Clerk, Receiver.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., April 21, '93.

Dr. Butler Medicine Co.

GENTLEMEN.—Having recently had my attention called to your Golden Pills as an excellent remedy for building up the overworked nervous system, will say I have tried them, and can say truthfully that they have done me good. They have relieved me of the large number of nervous headaches which have given me trouble more or less for several years. My results about the pills. Very respectfully, Water Works, Springfield, Mo.

METHODIST CHURCH.

Miss Switzer conducted the services last Sunday.

Rev. David Wilson, of Napanee, will conduct the services next Sunday.

Rev. R. Taylor, the new pastor, will arrive in town in the course of a few weeks.

A committee has been appointed to make arrangements for the Sunday school which will be on a larger scale than ever this year.

CHURCH OF THE REDEEMER.

The services last Sunday were hearty and impressive. At the evening service the Missionary Society, a duet which was much appreciated. The congregation meeting of the Y. P. S. C. Endeavor was well attended and the proceedings were very interesting.

Services next Sunday at the usual hour.
In the evening the theme will be "The Hypocrite Branch."

The Y. P. S. C. Endeavor meeting at 8 p.m. next Sunday; subject, "Our young life for Christ."

A business meeting of the Y. P. S. C.
Endeavor will be held this (Friday) evening at 8 o'clock. Business of a very important nature.

Rev. R. J. Craig will attend the meeting of the General Assembly in Brantford next week as a commissioner from the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Some young men were performing the duties of ushers last Sunday; a good degree.

ST. MARK'S CHURCH NOTES.

Next Sunday, June 11th, the second Sunday after Trinity, will be the festival of St. Barnabas, Apostle and Martyr. The name of Barnabas, says Dr. Blunt, derives its chief lustre from his association with St. Paul. His original name, Acts iv, was Joses or Joseph. After our Lord's ascension he received the name of Barnabas, which he conceived and showed his zeal for Christ by his property that he Apostles might distribute the proceeds among the poor. Having brought St.
Paul to Antioch, he was associated with him for about fourteen years and on several missionary journeys. Tradition represents him to have been stoned to death by the Jews at Salamis. St. Epiphanius is extant, bearing the name of Barnabas, which many scholars consider to be authentic.
The celebration of the Holy Communion is at 8 a.m.

All are specially requested to be present at the men's bible class next Sunday at 9:30 a.m.

The lady president, Mrs. Stanton, and several delegates are attending the Woman's Auxiliary to Domestic and Foreign Missions in Kingston.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrup, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curls, cures Diarrhoea and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.
"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."
Dr. C. C. Osmond,
Lowell, Mass.
"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphia, soothing syrup and other harmful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

On Wednesday Almon Howard, while working on Forester farm fell from a load of hay and struck on a pitchfork a time of which pierced his arm causing an ugly wound. Dr. Vandervoort attended his injuries.

Board of Health. A deputation of the board of health visited all parts of the town the other day. They found that the sanitary condition of the town was generally satisfactory, but were surprised that a number of people, many of whom should have known better, had not complied with the regulations of the board. They gave these parties a few days grace, and the inspector of the board will make another visit in a few days. If any are found delinquent in their duty prosecutions will most assuredly follow, and hence the necessity of a strict compliance with the regulations to avoid legal penalties. In the use of closets it is found that many have neglected to use ashes or dust, this is a great mistake and a box of this material should be an indispensable adjunct to every closet. The members will attend to this and a few other details Deseronto will occupy an enviable position in the use of health.

Grand Lodge of Prentice Boys. The Grand Lodge of Prentice Boys will hold its annual meeting in Deseronto next week. Its sessions will commence Tuesday at 7 p. m. and continue on that day the members of the Grand Lodge with the members of Victoria Lodge, No. 3, of Deseronto, and of Belleville, Shannonville, Londale and other district lodges of the order, and also the members of Albert L. O. L. No. 1875 and Deacons Lodge of the Sons of England will meet at the "Prentice Boys" hall, and headed by the Citizens' Band will march in procession to St. Mark's church where the services will be presided by Rev. R. B. Patton, B.A. On Wednesday evening a complimentary excursion to Pictou by the steamer "Albatross" will be tendered to the Grand Lodge and a pleasant time will, no doubt, be enjoyed. The local brethren have made most ample preparations for the meeting of the delegates of all orders, in welcoming the members of the Grand Lodge to Deseronto, and expresses the hope that they will enjoy their visit to this busy manufacturing centre.

Liver Complaint Completely Cured by Sagwa!
 The Only Remedy which did Any Good.

METROPOLE, ILL., April 4, 1892.
 I had been troubled with liver complaint for twelve years when my company was in Paducah, Ky., about two years ago. I tried one bottle of Kickapoo Indian Sagwa, and it did me great good. A slight course of my trouble recently has caused me to purchase another bottle, and the results are so gratifying that I have bought five more, and am satisfied of being completely cured, and I willingly recommend it to all who may be afflicted with liver trouble. It is the only medicine I have ever found which would do me any good. SAMUEL W. GREENE.

Terrible Blood Poison!
 Completely cured by Sagwa.

HURON, N.H., Jan. 21, 1892.
 Two years ago my blood was in a very bad state, and I was afflicted with boils and abscesses to an alarming extent. At the time I learned of Kickapoo Indian Sagwa, I had two abscesses, one on my face and one on my neck, and was suffering untold agony. I used two bottles of the Sagwa, and was completely cured, and permanently rid of my troubles, and am satisfied that as a blood purifier it is unequalled by any in the market. C. C. LESLIE.

Rescued from the Grave!
 The Startling Story of Wm. Fittiey.

PROSPECT, O., March 20, 1892.
 About two years ago I was afflicted with the Grippe, from which I never fully recovered, and there has never been a waking moment since that I have not suffered with the headache, until I began using Kickapoo Indian Sagwa. Less than two bottles have completely cured me of headache, and I am satisfied that if I had not got some relief from some source within a few days, I would have gone to my grave, or would have been a fit subject for the lunatic asylum. The doctor failed to afford me any relief, and the numerous patent medicines in the market were equally unavailing, and nothing gave me any relief whatever except what I believe to be the greatest boon to humanity, Kickapoo Indian Sagwa. WILLIAM FITTIEY.

Sufferings Terrible!
 Kickapoo Indian Sagwa restored him to health. A Glorious Remedy.

METROPOLE, ILL., April 4, 1892.
 For three years I was a terrible sufferer from chronic dyspepsia and nervousness, and life was a burden to me. I tried everything I heard of, and found nothing would give me any relief, and finally concluded that my case was incurable, and I felt that I must die, my trouble was such that life had no attraction for me, and I was worn out and discouraged. At this time my attention was called to Kickapoo Indian Sagwa, and I bought a bottle and began using it. To my great surprise, it gave me great relief. I purchased and used six bottles in all, and today am a well, hearty man, thanks to this glorious remedy. I cheerfully recommend it to any one suffering with the various dyspepsias, and it will do all that is claimed. Any one doubting this statement may write me or see me in person. ROBERT NUCKOLLS.
 Proprietor Palace Hotel.

"Truly Wonderful!"
 Will do all that You Claim.

BUTLER, ILL., April 4, 1892.
 I have used Kickapoo Indian Sagwa, and found it wonderful in effect, and also used Kickapoo Indian Cough Cure for my eleven-month-old child with gratifying results. These medicines are truly wonderful, and will do all that is claimed for them. LOUIS REIMER.

A Little Child Rescued from Pain and Anguish.

Gratitude of the Father. The Daughter's Health also Improved. Kickapoo Indian Remedies the Friend of the Family.

My little boy has been a terrible sufferer from colic, resulting from the measles, and for two years he had been treated by the best physicians at different times, and we had tried numerous remedies. Learning of Kickapoo Indian Oil we obtained it, and used some according to directions, and the boy was cured within five minutes, and has had no attacks since. I would not take pain for my bottle if I could not get another, and I gladly recommend it for all it claims to do. My daughter's health was also wonderfully improved by the use of Kickapoo Indian Sagwa, and I consider the Kickapoo remedies invaluable in every home. Respectfully,
 JOHN H. EVERSOLE, Music Dealer.

Many are familiar with the famous "Buffalo Bill" wonderful wild west show. Prior to his venture abroad, Mr. Cody exhibited at Sutton's Island, in New York Harbor, where he became afflicted with malaria. Knowing the virtues of Kickapoo Indian Sagwa, Mr. Cody sent to the agents for this wonderful Indian remedy, and after using a few bottles was permanently cured.
 "Kickapoo Indian Sagwa is a remarkable medicine," said Mr. Cody, "and I have known of its virtues a long time. You may not say much and say that for what it claims to do it has no equal, and for malaria and chills it is far superior to quinine in many ways."
 "Kickapoo Indian Sagwa is also a sure cure for Rheumatism, and if the Kickapoo Oil is used at the same time it is impossible for rheumatic pains and stiffness to remain. It is the only remedy the Indians ever use, and has been known by them for ages. An Indian would not go to bed without his horse, gun, or blanket as he would without his Sagwa, a man whose integrity is unquestioned, should prove beyond a shadow of doubt that Kickapoo Indian Sagwa is just what is claimed for it; an honest medicine of superior curative qualities, combining the best of the vegetable kingdom gathered from the forests and gardens of nature."

Stomach Troubles Instantly Relieved and Permanently Cured.

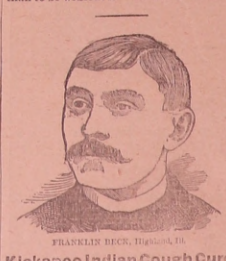

Kickapoo Indian Sagwa is a Blessing to Ladies.

LACOLLE, QUEBEC, March 21, 1892.
 I regard the Kickapoo Indian Sagwa remedies as truly wonderful. I have been a great sufferer from stomach trouble, and was unable to find relief from any source until I heard of these valuable remedies. The Kickapoo Indian Sagwa entirely cured me of my troubles, and the other remedies of my preparation have proved efficacious in every case, as I have reason to know. MISS NELLIE GRADY.

All Else Failed!
 Doctors Powerless to Relieve. Kickapoo Indian Sagwa Cured.

WYOMING, N.H., March 17, 1892.
 For the past twenty-five years I have been terribly afflicted with sciatica, and have tried everything there was in the market, but could get no relief. A year ago I purchased six bottles of the Kickapoo Indian Sagwa, and by its use was completely cured, and the entire poison was eliminated from my system. I always keep it in the house, and my wife and myself both take it whenever we feel the least bit "run down." I would rather pay $5.00 a bottle for Kickapoo Indian Sagwa than to be without it. CHARLES D. SEAVER.

Kickapoo Indian Cough Cure
 Breaks up a Chronic Cough.

HIGHLAND, ILL., Jan. 27, 1892.
 This is to certify that one bottle of Kickapoo Indian Cough Cure immediately relieved and completely cured me of a very severe case of several weeks' duration.
 FRANKLIN BECK, Justice of the Peace.

"It is a Wonderful Medicine!"
 Kidney Troubles Conquered.

HIGHLAND, ILL., Jan. 21, 1892.
 I have been a great sufferer from kidney trouble and was unable to find relief in any treatment. Learning of Kickapoo Indian Sagwa, I began taking it, and now am thoroughly cured, and my appetite and strength are fully restored. I feel that Sagwa is a wonderful medicine, and recommend it with confidence to all my friends. JACOB ZIMMERMAN.

Chronic Headache.

Found no Relief except in Kickapoo Indian Sagwa, the Greatest Blessing to the Human Race.

PROSPECT, O., March 15, 1892.
 For two years I had been more or less afflicted with headaches, and had failed to find any relief. I was recommended to use Kickapoo Indian Sagwa during my last attack, and by the second day my headache ceased, and I have had no return of it since. My headache came from a liver and stomach trouble, and the Sagwa made its curative effect felt at once. I cheerfully recommend Kickapoo Indian Sagwa to all who may be afflicted, believing it to be the greatest blessing of the human race. MILDRED EVERSOLE.

An Old Injury Cured after 15 years.

PROSPECT, O., Feb. 4, 1892.
 For fifteen years I had suffered with lameness in my right leg, caused by a fall from a horse, and a gentleman in these days' time in reducing the lameness and pain was sent me, and a few bottles of Kickapoo Indian Sagwa cured me of my lameness, and I am fully recommended in use. WILLIAM SCOTT.

A WORD TO THE WISE.

This verse is intended as a word to the wise,
If you ever use Baking Powder, try "The Surprise."
Of powders there are many of opposition
there's none.
But here is a powder no other can touch,
For limonite and pastry; it's really a surprise.
To use lowly and quickly the really the best,
The best, did I say? Well, try it and see,
Then your grocer will tell, that's the
powder for me.

ARISTOCRACY AND DEMOCRACY.

Thoughts on the Marriage of an American Girl to a British Earl.

The marriage of a young woman of New York to a young man of the title of Earl was an important event. All weddings are important events, but this one is of enormous consequence to the human race, which is perpetuated by them.

Merely as a matter of fact, another link between British feudal aristocracy and American democracy, the matrimonial union of yesterday is of no special significance. It is these days even England itself is democratic, and everywhere aristocracy is losing the privileges which have given it peculiar power and consequent distinction in the state.

CHAPTER IV.

The sun had set, and the gray veil of twilight covered the closing flowers. Lord Willmore and Laura Kingdon sat together by the window, engrossed in that tender converse which delights in the gloaming.

She told him all of herself that she had to tell: of her parents' early death, and the necessity which had prompted her to accept the position of companion; of her several experiences in that capacity, and the accident which had made her the bosom friend of Muriel O'Connor. She told him of her own relation, a younger sister, dear to her as flesh and blood could be, who was married to a sea-captain, now expected home from a long voyage. To that sister she was going on the morrow, to help her prepare for the reception of her husband and to welcome him home. She described a humble little cottage in the unfashionable locality of Wapping, where Dorothy Dundas awaited the return of her errand spouse.

"Wapping does not sound nice," said Laura deprecatingly, "but the house is really pretty and the people so friendly situated on the bank of the river. It is most interesting to watch the craft passing up and down, and we don't need a maid when the tide is in. If you would care to come to such an out-of-the-way place, I should be very glad to introduce you to my sister and her good husband. He is a rough sailor, but O! so good and true-hearted, and he loves Dorothy very fondly."

She gave Willmore the address, and told him how he could reach the place; and as she was to remain at Wapping for a few days, he readily agreed to visit her there, for at the end of a position a day's absence seemed unendurable.

They had scarcely observed how dark the room had grown, when the door opened to admit a stream of light from the hall, and another visitor.

Laura and Willmore, enveloped in shadow, were not noticed. The newcomer, who, standing in the radiance of the hall-lamp, could himself be very distinctly seen by them. He was a graceful, built young man of middle height, clad in evening dress, with a cape-coat draped carelessly across his shoulders. His face was partially concealed by the shadow of his opera-hat, which he had not removed. That Laura should hastily withdraw her hand from Lord Willmore's caress was not unnatural, but the lover solemnly asked himself whether the action was not rather due to recognition of the visitor than to the mere intrusion upon their conference.

The young man, evidently supposing the room to be unoccupied, began to tread the servant's footsteps.

"What is this? All gone to bed? Or not yet? Come, light up, light up, you lazy baggage! Is this a room to show me into? Where's your mistress? Don't you know where she is? Don't you know? Light the gas, idiot, and don't talk to me in the dark! Saucy bundles of rubbish your servants are! Don't have so much to say to me!"

The gas was lighted, and the servant withdrew. The newcomer found himself face to face with Laura Kingdon and Lord Willmore.

"Hallo!" he said, nodding to the lady with insolent familiarity, "hallo!"

"Good evening, Mr. Kestrel," heave you called to see Miss O'Connor?"

"Called to see you, my dear; want word with you, particular-lally."

"Don't you friends of mine?"

Mr. Kestrel had evidently tired. Lord Willmore surveyed him with disgust, and frowned heavily as he noted that Laura was trembling and appeared to be strangely embarrassed.

"Who is this man?" he asked.

Without waiting for Laura's introduction, the other replied, with emphasis, "This gentleman is Ralph Kestrel, the Ralph Kestrel—sir? Who are you?"

"This is Lord Willmore," said Laura, "a friend of Miss O'Connor's."

"What another of 'em? A lord, eh? My Lord Tommody, glad to make your acquaintance."

There was something infinitely offensive to Lord Willmore in the intrusive and drunken familiarity of this numskull, the sneering suggestiveness of the reference to Muriel O'Connor, who was not lost upon him. The thought flashed through his mind that Chester must be right, that his own first impressions were correct, and this dainty little house was the web of a human spider. And if that were the case, what of Laura Kingdon, the intimate of an adventuress? How could it be possible that she should touch pitch and not be defiled? She trembled in the presence of this intoxicated blackguard; she was palpably ill at ease; there was most clearly an understanding between them, and he did not hesitate to class her as unworthy.

But if Laura Kingdon had so far lost her good opinion, how much more was she confirmed in her evil surmises when, having treated Muriel O'Connor as a haughty mistress, he (Willmore) invited her to withdraw with him, and was met with a class of woman, who, agitated accents, that he himself would withdraw, and leave her in privacy with this swaggering debauchee!

He was too much shocked and amazed to offer the least opposition. With a cold bow, the significance of which was lost upon Laura Kingdon, he passed out into the garden in silence.

But, once shouldered by the friendly glow of the bushes, he paced along furiously, muttering to himself, and frequently exclaiming aloud in passionate resentment.

Rage grew upon him as he revolved the matter; rage at his own folly in loving such a creature; rage against her for manner, for the presumed corruption of her life, and, above all, for the affront she had put upon him in preferring the society of such a disgusting cad to his Ralph Kestrel.

His first impulse was to quit the house at once, and follow out his friend's advice to the letter. Their hostess had deserted them immediately after dinner without explanation, and making but the lightest of apologies.

Muriel's conduct was equally unaccountable. Had she considered it unbecomingly to desert a guest, why had she not taken charge of Cecil Chester, who would have been very much in the way had he not taken himself off? Where, by the bye, was Chester? He had disappeared into the shrubbery. Willmore groped his way, thither, and called quietly for his friend. Captain Dundas is a true and faithful man. that all right. That's all I wanted to know."

As Laura Kingdon watched the man's half-closed eyes, and listened to his shallow pretences, she felt a momentary danger to her sister through him rose fiercely in her mind.

"I do not trust you, Ralph Kestrel," she said scornfully. "I have a bitter sorrow that I first made you acquainted with Dorothy while her husband was at sea. I have learnt some part of the disgraceful proposals you have made to her in defiance of all the restraints of courtesy, manhood, and honor. I know that you have visited her again and again, how often and with what success you have urged your infamous suit I do not know, for I fear that Dorothy has not told me all. But this I believe—of late, she has been very weak, lamentably weak and foolish—I believe that she may yet meet her husband without shame, and rest upon his heart."

In the blessed consciousness that she has not formed the right to his devoted love. If I thought otherwise I would not improve you, as I do now to abandon the wife purpose which I know too well you have defined. If you have never or ever had one spark of devotion for Dorothy, be chivalrous, and blot your name from my memory. Captain Dundas is a true and faithful man. More like curiosity, he told himself, induced him to do so. He could not deny that there was a fascination about that woman, a magnetic witchery around which he was drawn, and which he would not admit even to himself that he would not the very mercy of her enchantment. No, he was curious that held him there, the interest of a study of human nature, in which he might compare the signs, which the science of phrenology declared infallible, with the actual nature of the subject under examination, and in the self-sufficiency of his judgment, believed it to be.

Her eyes, those "windows of the soul," were dark and deep, and he saw them clearly in the light of the candles on the sconces of the piano. Yellow eyes of a deep orange tint, strangely flecked with blue. He tried to vainly to associate them with some evil characteristic, to justify his prejudice against her.

There was nothing imaginable to be compared with her eyes, but brave honesty, tempered with the commanding qualities of intellect. He could not find the words to describe them in those eyes—

"Ah, thought he, 'presently we shall see these yellow eyes gleaming upon green cloth!'"

He passed in review the hair—unmistakably, indisputably red, but lovely hair—wavy, smooth, and shining, and of the fore-d, broad and low, and lightly confined by a golden fillet; the fine, finely-chiselled nose, gently satirical; the large mouth, with its firm yet flexible lips, disclosing with every word a row of beautiful teeth; the ruddy complexion, glowing with life and health; the hands, nervous and well-shaped—a model for a sculptor—of an infinite variety of subjects, hovering like a bee, and in regard to their work, as if they were not his, but of some other person, and he seemed to have a secret, self with lack of generosity, with unmanliness, in seeking with such cruel persistence for a rift into the armor of his soul, for a point where he could strike, and so purely, for poison in the draught that appeared so fragrant and good.

She had almost converted him from his antagonism, almost won him to leave in her defence of himself, when he happened to cast his eyes forward, and other guests in the corner of the room.

Ralph Kestrel, sitting astride a chair, with his elbows on the back, was smoking a cigar, and looking towards the young man's handsome, dissolute features an expression of almost satanic pride, and a rictus of scorn. He was the arch-enemy himself, lowered the villainous countenance of Dennis Donovan, with a look of such ferocity and defiance that it was enough to freeze the blood.

At once his suspicions of Muriel O'Connor surged back.

"What were the words of La Bruyere?" he murmured to himself, "that men who wish to be held in esteem, they must associate with those who are estimable."

If Muriel O'Connor and Laura Kingdon, two honorable women, were to encounter such men as these under the same roof? They could not touch pitch without being defiled, and that their names were pitched was beyond a doubt.

Then he thought of the spectacle of Laura going to Wapping, and of the letters—love-letters, love-letters, and the impulsive thanksgiving of the kiss she had bestowed upon Ralph Kestrel, and he was almost ready to exclaim, in that scene, as he understood it.

Could it be that these girls were in the power of two knaves—innocent—in their power? Could they be delivered? All the chivalry of Cecil Chester's manhood rose in arms at the idea. The reputation of the world was at stake. He had subjected both to hold in abeyance the romantic impulses of his youth. His imagination kindled at the thought of the girl who had been his mistress for fifteen years before. The house became an enchanted castle, Dennis Donovan an ogre, Ralph Kestrel a magician, and himself the champion knight who would be won in a valorous contention with supernatural powers.

Muriel assisted his reverie with one of Burke's entrancing descriptions of the glancing up and perceiving that she was in cloudland, she commenced to sing the words of the melody in a rich low voice that he had never heard before.

She sang and he listened. The song swelled into fuller, freer tones, like the heavenly flight of a swift bird, drawing him up to the close as such a circle glances gently downward to its nest in the waving corn.

The spell was broken by Kestrel. "Brava, dear girl, brava!" he exclaimed, approaching the piano. "Never heard you sing that better."

Muriel's cheeks were flushed with where "There's just one song you sing better, darling, and sure we'll have it now for the sake of good luck. Miss Muriel, just give us, please, 'The Wearing of the Green.'"

Chester looked at Muriel keenly, expecting to see some confirmation of his latest view concerning her. She would show loathing and fear of the evil-looking Donovan, of course; she would shudder at the approach of this cigarette-smoking, clear-eyed, puppet, she would sing the patriotic song as bidden.

But his calculations were all upset. Muriel sang with a clear, sweet voice, and in tones as dulcet as those she had recently blended with the music—the moon light and smiling as the moon, and with a clear, sweet voice, and in tones as dulcet as those she had recently blended with the music—the moon light and smiling as the moon.

your forehead has been accurate, your judgment correct; but now Cecil Chester was not quite fond of that with that fact. He said nothing, but—inconspicuous man that he was—he made up his mind to return to the house at the corner before many days.

Main street, Deseronto.

A favorite pug dog belonging to Mr. J. G. Hampton was poisoned the other day.

Mr. G. E. Sailer shows in his window a novelty in the shape of a clock which is an exact model of the great Masonic temple in Chicago.

It has been remarked that a flag staff which surmounts the residence of a well known financier on St. George street does not present a very comely appearance.

Smith's Falls Board of Education has instructed the school teachers of that town to warn the pupils against robbing the nests and destroying the eggs of insectivorous birds.

C. P. Holton's saw and shingle mill at Belleville was destroyed by fire on Sunday morning. It is supposed the building was struck by lightning. Loss $6,000; insurance $2,000.

Several young men who persist in standing about the Methodist church on Sunday evenings have been warned by the Chief that a reputation for the offence will entail arrest and penalties.

The Daily Mail of Saturday, June 17th, will contain an illustrated account of the famous battle of Waterloo. This number will be worth securing. Copies for sale at THE TRIBUNE office.

The Board of Health Inspector should order the removal of that unsightly old box at the corner of Thomas and St. George streets which for weeks back has been an eyesore to all passers by.

The Villa Maria Convent at Notre Dame de Grace, Montreal, was burned last week. It was one of the largest edifices in Canada. It is estimated that the loss will reach upwards of $1,000,000; insurance only $100,000.

Robert Nasmith, the popular bugler of the Deseronto Bicycle Club, has just received a handsome "Rudge Pneumatic" bicycle. It is indeed a beauty well fitted to take its place at the head of the procession of local wheelmen.

Several members of the demi-monde of Napanee have been paying frequent visits to Deseronto of late. If repeated the authorities intend to take action and a term in the Mercer Reformatory will await these frail daughters of Mother Eve.

Dominion Day comes on Saturday this year. In the interests of business men a great many towns intend celebrating Monday, July 3rd, as the holiday. It would be for our town authorities to take the matter into consideration.

Mr. Alexandra Peden, representing Messrs. Mahan, Byars & Co. one of the largest houses in Glasgow, Scotland, has been in town this week on his semi-annual visit, receiving the orders for fall and winter goods from the Big Store.

We observe too many horses passing along the streets with their heads checked up to a painful degree. This cruel practice is becoming unfashionable in the best driving circles, and we hope the Bay district will not be the last to discard it.

The British India of Glasgow and the British India Steam Navigation Company, and the British India Associated Steamers, is one concern. It is the largest steamship company in the world. It owns 103 steamships measuring 239,635 tons.

The county court opened on Tuesday. There were only two cases to be brought before the Grand Jury. Messrs. Wm. McCune, Robert Miller and Samuel Miller, of Deseronto, and Chas. McFarlane, of Tyndin, were members of the Grand Jury.

The Napanee Express mouse and walls over the defect in Tyndin, and the football club upon the collegiate institute of that town. It trumps up charges against the referee and insists on excuses which are the most preposterous.

At Belleville, last Saturday, the police magistrate heard a charge preferred against Platt, a teacher of Tyndin, of assaulting Sarah Peck, one of his pupils. It appears the school teacher struck the little girl in the face. Platt admitted the charge, paid the costs of the court and the matter was dropped.

Flower Terrace on Dundas street well deserves its name this year. The plot of ground in front of each residence shows a profusion of pretty flowers and several make a fine display of ferns. If all the citizens followed the example of these tasty residents what a change would be effected in the appearance of Deseronto.

Councillor Whitton's residence is nearly completed. It will present a very pretty appearance. Councillor Irvine's three new cottages on Thomas street will soon be ready for occupancy. Mr. R. Adam's new brick house on the same street is being rushed forward and Mr. Edward Cole's brick cottage on Dundas street will also be completed in a few weeks.

It would not be a very expensive nor difficult job to grade the north side of Dundas street east of Centre street and down a good piece of boardwalk to Fourth street. This would make one of the most pleasant promenades in the town, as it would afford a view of the bay and a convenience to pupils attending the public school and to the general public. Our town council have shown a deplorable lack of foresight in neglecting to provide a few small parks for recreative purposes. Failing these let us have plenty of promenades. No town in Canada is better fitted out with boardwalks than Deseronto, but there is always room for improvement.

For old theatre in Washington, the building in which Abraham Lincoln was assassinated, and used by the United States government as part of the office of the surgeon-general of the army, collapsed last Friday morning. There were 475 persons mostly clerks, employed in the building. Workmen were engaged in excavating in the cellar preparatory to introducing an electric light plant, and it is supposed they had dug beneath the foundation supports in the front of the building weakening them so that the walls gave way. The building, as it stands, has long been considered unsafe. Twenty-four lives were lost and fifty-two persons were seriously injured by this catastrophe.

At meetings of the Toronto and Niagara Conference of the Methodist Church, Dr. Douglas voiced the opinion of the large and important assemblies when he complained that the Methodists of Canada did not receive their rightful share of public honors. In the Dominion Cabinet, he said, there was only one Methodist while in the Ontario government there was no representative of that church. He also stated that few Methodists were entrusted with legal or magisterial duties.

A young man who was ambitious of public honors, he further claimed, had to leave the Methodist church and join another denomination if he wished to succeed. Dr. Douglas is not afraid to speak out, and it must be admitted that in a measure he is justified in making these statements.

A boy named Joseph Bridgdon, aged thirteen years, was run over by a shunting train at Carleton Place and severely killed.

A noisy gang of young rowdies disturbed residents on Dundas St. George and other streets about nine o'clock last Sunday evening.

The North King called here on Wednesday evening on her way to Chicago with a large party of excursionists for the World's Fair.

Our thanks are due to Rev. J. J. Rice for copies of late Chicago newspapers. Mr. Rice is attending the World's Convention of Temperance Workers as a delegate from the Bay of Quinte conference.

The prospect still continues good for a large crop of strawberries this year and prices will be very low if the weather continues warm for another week. All small fruits are promising well in this district.

Thursday, July 6, is the date fixed for the marriage of the Duke of York and the Princess May. Yesterday was the last day upon which subscriptions were to be received for the proposed present by the women of Canada.

R. Manning, one of the men employed on the Rathbun Company's drive, fell off the boom just above the slide at Kilmont and was killed by a piece of broken glass.

On Wednesday the two-year-old son of James Harndon, of the Slash Road, was playing with other children when one struck him in the face with a piece of broken glass, splitting his nose and causing an ugly wound. He was brought to Deseronto where Dr. Yeomans dressed the wound.

Mr. Nasmith recently received intelligence of the death, from diphtheria, of three children of Mr. George Evans of New York. All three deaths occurred within three days. The many Deseronto friends of the Evans family sympathize with them in this very sad bereavement.

Canada is holding its own in the matter of serious crimes. At Windsor on Monday evening, Capt. James Hickey was shot and instantly killed by a young man named John Vrooman. Hickey's wife left him a few weeks ago and it is alleged that Vrooman had been two intimate with her, and that this had led to a quarrel.

A great many went up to the grounds on Saturday to witness the anticipated baseball match between the Carworts team and a nine from the machine and locomotive shops. The visitors were disappointed, the Carworts failing to connect. The sons of Tuba Cain aver that it was a case of "lunk" on the part of the Carworts nine.

Business men complain of a number of dead men, chiefly young men, who run up bills here and there and then refuse to pay. Some of them clear out of town and the others who remain hang about the streets, little use to invoke the law, as it entails expenses, and a dollar a week is about all that can be collected from them at best by a judgmental man.

There is a rumor that a family on the gravel road, Richmond, sent their children to the Mount Pleasant Public school when diphtheria was in their household. If this is true, the school board is to be commended for their selfless and noble action.

Over one hundred young men who are on the present voters' list of Ernestown township are now residents in the United States. The exodus to Uncle Sam's domains has been going on since this season.

Will the Spanish caravels pass up the Bay of Quinte on their way to Chicago, is a question asked every day. If we had a Spanish consul here a favorable answer might be given for the purpose.

The United States vice-consul cannot be secured that official being at present in Europe. As the relations between Spain and Italy are at present of a friendly character, perhaps the Italian consul would intercede in behalf of the Bay route.

The Streets Committee are deserving of credit for the work done this year. Most of it has been in the right direction. Several much needed drains have been excavated and a great deal of new boardwalk has been laid down. During the past week a new boardwalk has been placed down on the north side of Thomas between Mill and Green streets. With a few crossings to be added, there is now an unbroken stretch of boardwalk on both sides of that street from the Terra Cotta Works to Brant street.

The agitation for a good boardwalk to the cemetery has broken out afresh and there is a general desire that the Council should give an appropriation for this purpose. The walk to the cemetery and Unger's Island is most pleasant during the summer months and hundreds went their way to those places every week.

The pleasure of the walk would be enhanced by a good boardwalk. While the cost would be considerable, it is thought it would not prove so very burdensome. If built with stringers near the outside of the planks it would not be so liable to get into bad repair. People attending funerals would not require to plow through mud and dust were a good boardwalk erected.

The Rathbun Company last week among other heavy shipments sent five car loads of glass, such, French casements, window frames and a quantity of dressed lumber to South Africa by steamship from New York.

Hank Powles fell off a wagon last Friday and his arm was broken by the fall. Dr. Newton reduced the fracture. John Cronk, of the Cedar Mill, had his hand caught in a saw. The oil of the machine in which another was lacerated. Dr. Yeomans dressed the wounds.

With to-morrow expires the period of grace extended by the Board of Health to persons who had failed to comply with its regulations. All delinquents reports after this week will be presented. In this connection we may mention that cholera is spreading in various parts of Europe.

The Ladies of the Steady Gleaner's Society of the Church of the Redeemer will hold a Lawn Festival on the beautiful grounds adjoining Mr. S. Rathbun's residence, on the afternoon and evening of Thursday, June 22nd. Several ornamental bottles will be presented to the patrons of the public utility, etc., etc., will be dispensed at popular prices. The Citizens' Band will furnish music. Admission to the grounds free.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

WALL PAPER IS OUR HOBBY.

WE have received 80,000 ROLLS of new goods this spring. These were ordered previous to the recent advance in the prices of Wall Paper, and you may depend upon such values as we have received through shrewd buying. That our Papers are always choice and very cheap, any of the many who are constantly using our Wall Hangings will tell you. That our Wall Paper Trade is the largest between Toronto and Montreal is an established fact, and we defy contradiction. Our New Papers all have Borders to match. Our salesman, Mr. CHARLES HENDERSON, formerly of New York, is an expert in Wall Paper, and will, gladly offer you any suggestions you may wish. We cannot get to see our line, write us, and we will be pleased to send you samples. We do an extensive mail order trade. We will allow to per cent. off the amount of your Wall Paper purchase for paper expenses in visiting Belleville. We refund cash for all papers returned.

C. B. SCANTLEBURY, Importer. Books, Stationery and Wall Paper, wholesale and retail.

THE CITY GROCERY.

TEA IS TEA

of course, whatever its quality. Gold is gold whether it be 9-karat or 22. But somehow people prefer the 22. In like manner they prefer the best quality of tea when they can get it, especially if the price is reasonable.

OUR FINE FAMILY TEA at 30 cents a pound is pure, rich, and full flavored, and has no equal in the town. A single trial convinces.

DEATHS.

PILKERTON—At his home, 8th concession of Tyndings, Mr. Michael Pilkerton, aged about 40 years.

Uruguay's President at the Play.

Our London friends having been apparently much amused at a recent note of ours respecting President Herrera of Uruguay at the theater we give them a little more information on the subject from personal observation. His eminence, except on state occasions, never sits at the front of his stage box, but keeps modestly in the background, placing his fringe in front of him. He is invariably armed with one of the largest pairs of opera glasses ever made, which he uses constantly, either directed toward the stage or toward the audience where Montevideo beauties mostly do congregate, for although H. E. may be weak in the financial line he has a remarkably keen eye for a pretty woman.

Low, satirical papers occasionally represent him with a corymb seated on each knee, but that of course is slander. At all events he has never been so seen in public. He has a quick ear for a joke and laughs heartily. He prefers ballet and comic opera to tragedy. Any company with a showy troop of chorus girls is sure of his patronage. He is by no means a dandy in his dress, wearing a quiet frock coat, an ill regulated tie and at times a decidedly shabby round hat. As he is an undisciplined man this does not contribute to a dignified appearance. He rarely takes any one with him in his brougham, but generally drives away alone. When he is at the theater he sits opposite his is always occupied by a stout lady of imposing appearance and with white hair.—Montevideo Times.

Indian and Negro Boys at School.

People who are visiting Old Point find it a most interesting excursion to slip over to Hampton on one of the electric cars that quickly accomplishes the distance and spend a morning in the normal institute there. It is only when one looks on and listens to a class of negro girls and boys, with a smaller proportion of Indian lads, at their work in the commodious and wholesome classrooms that a full realization is had of what this great scheme of education means to them. Their faces are alert and interested, the race stolidity is being awakened, and, best of all, each of these quickened minds means a future center of activity and incentive to a future circle of their untutored brethren.

It is an impressive and thrilling sight to see the young men, black and olive skinned, march across the wide avenues of the institute grounds, their hand leading them with a martial tune, as they do every day at the dinner hour, to enter the large building set apart for their meals. Then the long tables in the vista of rooms are flanked by their standing occupants, a bell still the rule of entrance, and bowed heads a slow grace is chanted in concert. "Which race considers itself the superior?" was asked by a visitor lately. "Each" was the prompt reply, which seems the embodiment of true Americanism and to be commended in these struggling sons of the republic.—Cor. New York Times.

The Wrong Line.

It was the semi-monthly pay day in the postoffice department in Washington, and, as usual, the long line of clerks and other employees stretched down the corridor from the office of the disbursing clerk. An eager office seeker, who rushed up from the railway station, began in his usual way to Postmaster General Bissell, seeing the long line of people standing in the corridor, felt the end of it. An impatient exclamation from him drew the attention of the clerk standing just in front of him, who, seeing that he was a stranger, asked, "Do you want to see the disbursing clerk?" "No," said the office seeker, "I want to see the postmaster general." "Well," said the clerk, "we are all waiting to get our money from the disbursing clerk. We are clerks in the department." "Heavens!" said the stranger, "I thought you were all office seekers!" and he promptly made a break for the postmaster general's room.—Exchange.

Rebecca Wilkinson, of Brownsville, Ind., says: "I had been in a distressed condition for three years from Nervousness, Weakness of the Stomach, Dyspepsia and Indigestion until my health was gone. I bought one bottle of South American Nervine, which does me more good than any $50 worth of doctoring I ever did in my life. I would advise every weakly person to use this valuable and lovely remedy." A trial will convince you. Sold by W. G. Egar. 3162

—A T—Belleville Business College.

Under date of March 3, 1893, Edwin M. S. Young, Chief of Book-keeping Division Treasury Department, Washington, D. C., writes as follows:—

GENTLEMEN,—A copy of your latest book on Practical Book-keeping has just been received. I have made a thorough examination of the same and find that no better elucidation of this important subject could be given than that which is found on the first twenty pages.

Its name is appropriate. It is thorough in treatment, logical in its arrangement and a model of neatness on every page.

I think it is the best text book on Book-keeping on the market to-day.

Next Wednesday is the fifty-fifth anniversary of Her Majesty's coronation.

It is said that the apple core in Prince Edward will be a comparative failure this year.

The steamer Varuna will commence her 1000 Island trips, each Saturday on July 10th.

Mr. John Doreen, of Shannonville, was summoned to Chatham, Ont., last Friday by a telegram stating that his son Thomas had been seriously hurt.

Miss Emma Topping, aged 20, daughter of Thomas Topping, of Cloyne, will be married to John Quackenbush, aged 40, for $5,000 damages for alleged breach of promise of marriage.

The steamer Varuna will run to Napanee on Saturday July 1st, to accommodate those desiring to attend the races. The steamer leaves Deseronto at 10:20 a. m.; returning leaves Napanee at 7 p. m.; fare 25 cents.

On Monday, Mr. Thomas Thompson, fisherman, caught on a night line, between Grassy Point and Captain John's Island, an immense sturgeon. The monster turned the scale at 90 pounds, and was sold to an enterprising citizen at four cents a pound.

The open air concert of the Citizens' Band was rudely interfered with by the alarm of fire given last Friday evening. A large number of people were present, and the selections and the cry of fire caused great excitement.

Several of the young ladies in town wish to enter their most emphatic protest against the habit indulged in by many young men from the offices, etc., of going off on Saturday to spend Sunday in Kingston, Belleville, Trenton, Brighton and other sylvan haunts.

On Tuesday, Mr. W. P. Bowen very generously treated the Tribune staff to a bountiful supply of ice cream flavored in a manner which would please the most exacting epicure. Mr. Bowen has the thanks of the office accompanied with best wishes for a profitable season.

Mr. Mary Downes died of apoplexy last Friday night at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. T. Drummy, Marysville. The deceased lady was seventy-two years of age, and was long in lazarie, being Irish. She was highly respected and is survived by three sons and five daughters.

The woods are full of wild strawberries and many of our townfolk have been availing themselves of the opportunity to pick this fragrant fruit. Our reporter enjoyed a fine dish for tea on Thursday last week, which, considering the lack of berries of the season, was very early indeed.

A torrid wave has been passing over the country during the past week. Rain is much needed for growing crops. The maximum temperatures are as follows: Friday 71, degree in the shade, Saturday 63, Sunday 52, Monday 59, Tuesday 63, Wednesday 50, Thursday 56.

At St. Patrick's church, Napanee, on the 18th inst., Rev. Father Hogan, united in holy matrimony Mr. W. McManis, manager of the Bay of Quinte Meat Co., Deseronto, and Miss Maggie Fitzmaurice, of Napanee. The happy couple are enjoying a wedding trip to Niagara Falls, Toronto, etc. The bride has already the best of wishes of very many friends in Deseronto and elsewhere.

In nearly all the countries of Europe the fodder crop has failed. In England hay is forty dollars a ton, and speculators are busy buying up all the available stocks of fodder in Australia, South America and elsewhere. In France the farmers are selling off their cattle at six or seven dollars a head. The farmers of Canada should get good prices for their surplus hay crop this year.

The articles that have been appearing in the newspapers as to the exorbitant prices charged visitors to the World's Fair by Chicagoans are purely fiction. Any Deserontian can visit Chicago, do the Fair, and come back with a pocket full of money. The railway fare will cost about $20, sleeping berths, $9, meals and meals for six days, $15, extra baggage, $12. An economical man could do even better than this.

We would call the attention of our citizens, and the farmers in the vicinity to the danger they incur, by allowing their cows to run at large near a railway track. Not only will they get no recompense, should an animal be killed, but they are liable, under the Dominion and Ontario Railway Acts, to a fine, and moreover, should any damage result to the railway company by their breach of the law, they may be called upon to pay heavy damages. We are induced to make these remarks through one or two narrow escapes that have recently occurred.

The political event of the week was the great Reform Convention held at Ottawa commencing on Tuesday. It was the largest and most representative political convention ever held in Canada. Delegates to the number of over eighteen hundred being present from all parts of the Dominion. The proceedings were deeply interesting and Mr. Laurier and the other Liberal leaders were accorded splendid ovations as they rose to address the assembly. A series of resolutions, in which the policy of the party was enunciated, was adopted by the convention.

A committee from the Methodist Sunday school after due deliberation have made arrangements for their annual picnic this season on Wednesday, July 10th and have selected the Mohawk Grove, which is unsurpassed for picnic parties, for their grand picnic. Those in charge are arranging for amusements for all, and will provide for the pleasure of all who may attend. No admission fee will be charged to the grounds. Buses will convey those desiring to attend for five cents. This is sure to be a success as the Methodist Sunday school do not fail in anything they undertake.

During the progress of the fire at the Deseronto House last Friday evening, Mr. W. B. Graham, ever to the front on such occasions, had the misfortune to fall from a plank on which he was standing to the ground below. As a result he sustained a fracture of the large bone of his right leg about three inches above the ankle. Dr. Yeomans reduced the fracture. On Saturday a seven-year-old daughter of Mr. Merceus Graves fell down the front door steps breaking her left arm near the elbow. Dr. Vandervoort set the broken limb.

About nine o'clock last Friday evening fire was discovered in the servants' quarters above the kitchen of the Deseronto House. The fire was first seen by a boy named John and when the flames issued from the windows it was feared that matters would prove serious. However a bucket brigade held the flames well in check until the alarm was sounded and the fire department called out. Two heavy streams of water were soon playing on the fire which was crushed out in time to prevent a great conflagration. It is not known how the fire originated. The domestics lost all their clothing and considerable damage was done to the kitchen wing. The loss is covered by insurance.

Strawberry Festival.

The young people of Emmos Church, Emmos, are giving a strawberry festival in Mr. John Emmos' lawn, on the evening of Tuesday, June 27th. A good programme is promised. Admission fifteen cents.

Reform Delegates.

The following gentlemen from East Hastings were present as delegates at the great Reform Convention at Ottawa this week: W. R. Aylsworth, A. S. Vail, John Dalton, C. E. Lyons, T. Murphy, D. R. Leavenworth, A. McLeod, L. Hoppins, A. G. Bogart, S. Russell.

Assessment Appeal.

It is said to be the intention of the Council of the township of Southampton to appeal against the County of the County of Prince Edward. It is felt that the township has been unfairly dealt with of late years, and the matter will be left to arbitration in the manner prescribed by the statute.

The Caravels.

The ancient vessels, the caravels, exact models of boats used 400 years ago by Columbus and party will be at Clayton on Saturday and those going on the B. of Q. and Society excursion will have an opportunity of seeing them as the steamer Maud will go direct to Clayton from Kingston. Train leaves Deseronto at 7 a. m. Fare $1.00.

Napanee Celebration. The Napanee Driving Park Association give two days racing this year, Friday June 30th and Saturday July 1st. The association have recently erected a new grandstand capable of seating 1000 persons. The Hero runs an excursion from Pictou, N. S. and the matter will be left to arbitration by the B. of Q. Ry on both days.

Cricket Match.

The Deseronto Cricket Club plays its first match of the season to-morrow, at Kingston, against the Royal Military College team. As the fare to Kingston and back on that day, has been placed at the small sum of one day's pay of the players, the club have doubt a number of our citizens will avail themselves of the pleasure of seeing the match and giving our cricketers their moral support.

Engagement.

At eight o'clock on Monday evening, 10th inst., a quiet wedding occurred at the Parsonage of the Bridge Street Methodist Church, Belleville, when Mr. F. H. Bell, Clerk, Belleville, and Miss Eva A. Willis, daughter of Mr. A. Willis, of this town, were united in holy matrimony by Rev. E. N. Baker, M. A., D. D., of the former sabbath school teacher of the groom. The happy couple were accompanied on their pleasant mission by Mr. & Mrs. J. M. Smith, Miss Eva Chapman and Mr. & Mrs. Lowey who rendered all the kindly assistance required on such important occasions. The wedding was a very simple one, and the week being recorded the hearty congratulations of a very numerous circle of friends, all of whom unite in wishing them a long life of wedded bliss.

Football.

The football match last Saturday between a team from Napanee and the Deseronto Club junior eleven resulted in a victory of 2 to 1 for the latter. The play was slow in the first half, Napanee having already the best of it, and scoring the only goal. But the Deseronto boys, as one of their remarkable, were initiating the seniors and saving themselves for the second half. When time was called for the game to end the Deseronto boys had 2 goals to their credit and the Napanee team had none. The game was a very close one, and the Deseronto team was made up as follows: Goal, Holmes; backs, Poitras, Jamieson; half backs, Eggar; forwards, Eggar; forwards, Holmes, Dougherty, Richardson, Rayburn, Edwards. Mr. Arthur Nasimith acted as referee and gave complete satisfaction.

METHODIST CHURCH.

Rev. R. Taylor, the new Pastor, arrived in town yesterday and will conduct the services next Sunday. The Committee have appointed Wednesday, July 19th, as the date of the Sabbath school picnic. It will be held in the Mohawk Grove. Admission to the grounds will be free, and Mr. Thos. Gault will furnish transportation at five cents per trip. Rev. J. J. Rice and Mrs. Rice returned home from Chicago on Tuesday and leave to-day for Mr. Rice's new charge at Tamworth.

DESERONTO HIGH SCHOOL.

INSPECTOR'S REPORT. Inspector Hodgson, who recently visited the Deseronto High School, has forwarded some extracts of his report to the Board which we present to our readers. He generalizes his opinion in the following words: "This school continues to maintain the high degree of excellence that has characterized it since opening." Here are some of the particulars. Referring to accommodation he places 12 out of 14 of the subbasement under this heading in the first class, desks being marked second class and waiting rooms blank. We will venture to assert that the Inspector finds but few schools so well equipped. Under the heading "Organization he finds that the provisions made for teaching writing, reading and drill are in accordance with the regulations and the subject it is fair. The divisions of duties among teachers and the proportion of the English literature. The character of the teaching is invariably marked good in all branches taught. Mr. Hodgson reports the staff legally qualified, the discipline excellent, pupils regularly admitted, text books in accordance with the regulations, time is regularly devoted to supplementary reading in English literature. The character of the work of the last class of entrants is marked good and excellent. It is pleasing to make such an encouraging report public. It is evident that the Inspector was perfectly satisfied with what he observed of the work of this school. Principal Knight and his excellent staff of teachers must be complimented on such flattering testimony to the success which has followed their efforts.

HORSES FOR FOREIGN MARKETS.

Our farmers will be interested in knowing just how to put their horses and cattle in condition to suit foreign buyers. In order to realize the top price they must be in first class health, sleek and firm. This result can be most easily obtained by using Dick's Blood Purifier.

ARE YOU DEAF.

Or do you suffer from noise in the head then see J. H. G. who has a valuable treatise containing full particulars for home cure which costs comparatively nothing. The domestic loss all their clothing and considerable damage was done to the kitchen wing. The loss is covered by insurance.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

WALL PAPER IS OUR HOBBY.

WE'VE received 50,000 ROLLS of New Goods this Spring. These were ordered previous to the recent advance in the prices of Wall Paper, and you may depend upon receiving just such values as we have received through shrewd buying. That our papers are always of choice and very cheap, any of the many who are constantly using our Wall Hangings will tell you. That our Wall Paper Trade is the largest between Toronto and Montreal is an established fact, and we defy contradiction. Our New Papers all have Borders to match. Our Paper, Mr. CHARLES HENDERSON, formerly of New York, is an expert in Wall Paper, and will gladly offer you any suggestions you may wish.

If you cannot get to see our line, write us, and we will be pleased to send you samples. We do an extensive mail order trade. We will allow to per cent. off the amount of your Wall Paper bill to pay your expenses in visiting Belleville.

We refund cash for all papers returned.

C. B. SCANTLEBURY, Importer.

Practical Book-Keeping

—AT—

Belleville Business College.

Under date of March 3, 1893, Edwin M. S. Young, Clerk, Belleville Division, Division, Department, Washington, D. C., writes as follows: "I have made a thorough examination of the book, and find it to be a most excellent one, and one that will be of great value to the student."

It is thorough in its treatment, logical in its arrangement and a model of book-keeping as just now received. I think it is the best text book on book-keeping on the market. For circular of the College address:

A WORD TO THE WISE.

This verse is intended as a word to the wise. If you ever use Baking Powder, try "The Surprises."

Of powders there are many; of opposition there's much. But here is a powder no other can touch. For biscuits and pastry; it's really a surprise. To see how lovely and quickly they rise. The best, did I say? Well, try it and see. Then your grocer will tell, that's the powder for me.

TYENDINGUA RESERVE

From Our Own Correspondent.
The parsonage grove is private property and not to be trespassed upon.
Francis Clout, our local quill player, will play a match shortly in Belleville. We expect him to win. The man who can throw a quill better than Frank should be put on exhibition at Chicago.

The Young People's Association will give an entertainment at an early date in the council house in aid of the Christ Church improvement fund.

We regret to hear of the continued illness of Cyrus Maracle; he has gone to Toronto for treatment.

The Rev. T. Garrett officiated at both churches on the Reserve on Sunday. He is an old friend of the Molawks and was heartily welcomed.

There will be a general council of the band on Wednesday the 5th of July, when matters of importance will be discussed.

We understand that an Indian Medicine Company has been organized here which will undertake to cure disease. The "World's Fair" will be taken in as well as other places of note on route.

Chief Andrew Maracle appears to be doing a good business with his milk wagon. We wish him success in his new venture.

SHANNONVILLE.

From Our Own Correspondent.
Mr. Wm. D. Mackie, Stationer, who has been visiting here during the last month, returned home on Friday.

Mr. A. L. Adam, who has been visiting friends at Peterborough and Lakeport, returned home last week.

Miss Joe Lovelace, of Cobourg, spent Sunday with her parents in this village.

Mr. D. Creeper spent Sunday last with her aunt, Mrs. Doney, of Solvayville.

Rev. W. W. Fiske and wife, of Baltimore, were visiting their daughter, Mrs. L. E. Mills last week.

On Monday eve, about fifty members of the Methodist church gathered at the parsonage to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Adam back at the beginning of their third year among us. A beautiful repast was served provided by the ladies, and an address of welcome was read by Mr. Mills to which Mr. Adam made a suitable reply and a very pleasant evening was spent.

On Monday, the 20th, an old resident of our village passed away in the person of Anne Frizell, widow of Ronald McMichael, aged 80 years. Four sons and one daughter are left to mourn the loss of an affectionate mother. Three of her sons reside in the States, and Mr. W. McMichael and Miss Amelia being residents of our village.

Friday evening last the annual meeting of the E. L. O. C. Endeavor took place. Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: Mr. Mills, president; Mrs. Lake, president of the church; Mrs. Williams, president of the social department; Mrs. Gilis, president of literary department; Mrs. Pennick, Recording secretary; Miss M. Williams, treasurer.

From Our Own Correspondent.
An epidemic of runaway has fallen upon us. Mr. Ed. Brennan's horses ran away on Monday evening near Kingsford, spilling a barrel of salt and other contents of the wagon.

Mr. Charles Bennett who was with Mr. Brennan was thrown out and seriously injured.

Mrs. Pettit, of Winnipeg, daughter of Mr. J. B. Gordon, who has been visiting friends in Ontario for the past six months, spent several weeks at her father's accompanied by her daughter Miss Birdie. They intend returning to Winnipeg next month.

Mr. Will Gault is expected home next week.

Mrs. Daly, of Campbellford, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Jas. Elate returned home on Friday.

A grant of $100 has been offered by the Tyendinaga council on condition that Richard Bennett should contribute to the improvement of the boundary road north of Salmon river.

CRICKET MATCH.

A friendly match between eleven of Deseronto Cricket Club and the Royal Military College, Kingston, was played on the grounds of the latter on Saturday last. The game was won by the Cadets with eight wickets to spare. The College excelled in fielding and to a great extent victory is chiefly due. In their first innings five were retired with cypers; Straubenzie made the fine score of 39, the largest made during the day. For Deseronto eleven in the first innings made 25, an excellent score, he was less fortunate in the second when he secured 8. Macleod captured 20 runs in the second innings and captured nine wickets. 15 well earned runs. Allan's bowling was very efficient; he took six wickets in the first innings. Considering the small amount of practice which the Deseronto eleven have had this season, they did very well. The game was umpired by Mr. H. Bedford, of Deseronto, and Mr. John Brown, of the College.

What is

CASTORIA

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrup, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curls, cures Diarrhoea and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves scorching troubles, cures constipation and flatulency. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."

Dr. G. C. Osborn,
Lowell, Mass.

Castoria.

"Castoria is well adapted to children than I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."

Dr. A. A. Anson, M. D., 1110 Co. Street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of this experience in their capable practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

ELECTRIC HEATING.

AN INVENTION THAT MAY REVOLUTIONIZE ALL METHODS.

A Remarkably Simple Principle of Electrical Energy Produces Astonishment Among Scientists Before The Experiments Were Performed.

A discovery so original and so wide in its practical application that it is believed to open a new and important chapter in the use of electricity for heating purposes has recently been announced from Brussels and tested at Berlin. The invention is the result of the experiments of a Belgian scientist, Monsieur Lefebvre, and has been applied to the Imperial German patent office for patents on a new method of heating, melting and refining metals by means of electrical heat.

The means, as designated in their claim, is so simple and the results are so thorough that it is inevitable that the patent examiners demanded that before issuing the patent a practical demonstration of the process should be made in their presence. The inventor was referred to an eminent and distinguished electrical expert at Berlin, who made the first essay in his private laboratory and was so delighted with the result that he asked by telegraph permission of the inventors to repeat the demonstration before the Electro-technical society at the German capital.

Permission was readily granted, and the experiment was performed before a group of expert electricians with brilliant success. From the account given by one of the experts who was present at these demonstrations and from various other sources the following report of the new process has been derived:

The apparatus consists of a glass or porcelain vase, which may be of any size or shape, and is adapted to the purpose, provided with a lining of lead connected with a strong conductor of positive electricity. The vase is filled to the brim with water, and a strong electric current is passed through it by means of a flexible tube connected with an ordinary dynamo. With this simple and inexpensive equipment the following phenomena are produced:

The electrical current having been switched on, a bar of wrought iron or other metal is taken up with the tongs and plunged into the water within the vase. Immediately the water begins to boil at the point of contact. The immersed portion of the bar rises quickly to a red heat, and white heat and quite a stream of brilliant white light. In a few moments the heat becomes so intense that the iron melts and is carried off by the water, leaving a clear, glowing surface in perfect condition for welding.

The heating process has been so rapid that it has been found that the end of the bar held within the tongs has been more than slightly warmed, and the current being switched off the bar with its submerged portion is taken out of the water and is found to be at a temperature of 400 degrees Celsius has been developed. The rapidity of the process is such that the temperature of the bar is easily and accurately governed by the strength of the current employed, so that the whole process is under the control of the operator.

Divested of all merely technical phraseology and reduced to its simplest terms, the process under consideration may be explained as follows. One of the well known effects of electricity is to separate compound fluid bodies through which it passes into their primitive elements. The current passing through the water and metallic bar into the water decomposes the latter into its two gaseous elements, oxygen and hydrogen. The oxygen is attracted and gathered to the relatively large surface of the lead lining and produces no noticeable effect.

Hydrogen, on the other hand, gathers around the immersed portion of the bar, and as this has a comparatively limited surface area it is immediately surrounded with a close envelope or jacket of hydrogen, which, being a bad conductor of electricity, creates a powerful resistance to the passage of the current, and thus develops the heat which causes the bar to glow and melt. It is merely an application of the well known law that friction or resistance to the passage of an electrical current causes heat, and the apparent paradox of a cold piece of metal plunged into cold water rising rapidly to a melting alloy is as simple and clearly explained as the phenomenon of a platinum coil in a vacuum bulb.

It is as yet too early to form any definite estimate of the practical range of this discovery, but it is believed that this method has been applied experimentally only to the welding of various metals, but with such success that it promises in that special direction a complete revolution. Hitherto electrical energy transformed into heat has found but few successful applications in industry. For welding purposes it has been not only too expensive for general adoption, but it has entailed certain technical defects which have proved serious and have tended to overcome. As the temperature of the electrical furnace has been heretofore difficult to govern, the iron has often been overheated to the point of partial melting. This seriously affects its quality, as on cooling the metal does not resume its original fibrous texture, but becomes crystalline, with an important loss of tensile strength.

Another disadvantage has resulted from the fact that iron when used for practical purposes is rarely of an entirely uniform composition, but contains more or less carbon. Steel and wrought iron contain less carbon than cast iron, and when heated in the ordinary electrical furnace, the carbon is generated by the passage of the current between two carbon points, particles of loose carbon which are carried off by the current and convert it into something analogous to cast iron.

Whether it is applicable as an electrolytic process to the reduction of metals seems to be disputed. One account claims that by its use the cost of refining gold, platinum, copper, nickel and even iron will be reduced 50 per cent, while other authorities claim that the cost of refining iron will be successfully reduced by this method. No other foreign substances contained in the metal will be eliminated by it. In any case, however, the discovery of the process, which has been already demonstrated must open a wide and interesting field of experiment, the discovery of all countries.—Frank H. Mason, Consul General at Frankfurt.

President Patton gave the Princeton boys a bit of advice the other day that girls may heed as well. "Take care of your health," he said. "You may not need binoculars, but you will need your digestion every day."

Eating Raw Dandelions.

Who ever heard of a man eating raw dandelions? There is at least one man in this city who can boast of doing it, when he supposed that no one was looking.
The man in question was on his way to the railroad station to go home, and also was bringing home something which his faithful wife had repeatedly told him not to bring.
On his way to the depot he stopped in at one of the numerous meat markets on Lincoln street to order the Sunday dinner.
When about half way through the store on his way out, he chanced to spy a large box full of dandelions, and he immediately walked over to them, picked one up, looked at it, smelled of it and put it in his mouth and ate it.
He must have liked it, for he put his hand into the box again and pulled up another one and ate that.
When the market man detected him, he was putting away the greens as fast as ever he could.
The market man was speechless; he did not know what to make of it, but when he got over his fright he went over to the man and gently told him that he must stop eating the dandelions unless he wanted to pay for them, as there was quite a large hole in the box, which a little while before had been filled with dandelions.
The man desisted, and said that it was all right, and as he walked out of the store he was overheard to say, "That was great stuff."
What his feelings were an hour afterward is known only to himself.—Boston Herald.

Under date of March 3, 1893, Edwin M. S. Young, Chief of Book-keeping Division Treasury Department, Washington, D. C., writes as follows:—
"I have a copy of your latest book on Practical Book-keeping has just been received. I have made a thorough examination of the same and find that no better elucidation of this important subject could be given than that which is found on the first twenty pages.
Its name is appropriate. It is thorough in treatment, logical in its arrangement and a model of business on every page.
I think it is the best text book on book-keeping on the market to-day.

THE DESPISED COLONIST.

It is a singular feature of the English character that a nation born Englishman can hardly be got to believe that a person who is born in the colonies can be his equal in ability or understanding. It was this contempt for the opinion of colonists which ruined Braddock's campaign in the old French war, and brought about the greatest disaster in the history of British arms and up to the date of the Afghan war in 1842 when one man returned the solitary survivor of a British and native force of 20,000 men, which were annihilated at Cabul. This was the most striking lesson perhaps that a nation ever received of employing mediocrity to do the work of genius; yet it did not prevent the sacrifice of another army from the same cause in the Crimea, and the still more striking disaster of Insomalia, a quarter of a century later. This feeling of contempt for the opinions of colonists was in its fullest vigor in the days of Braddock and Burgoyne, but there is plenty of evidence that it survives to the present day. Every raw Scotch or English school boy, who obtains a professorship in a Canadian college, although as newly hatched in learning that the shell still clings to his back, immediately assumes the attitude of a lecturer and teach the heathen world, as he considers it, in which he is to place his insufferable conceit would provoke the indignation and resentment of men of ability in Canada, were it not so utterly absurd. It is the manifest result of inferior ignorance of the conditions of life, and of the possession of a head unduly swelled by a little leaven of learning.

TO INVADE THE UNITED STATES.

Toronto, Ont., June 26. Another attempt to invade the United States by the D.D. Medicine Company Ltd., of this city to the effect that they have decided to establish a factory and warehouse in Buffalo, N. Y., in order to supply the growing demand for D.D. Kidney Pills in the United States. This remedy has never been advertised in Canada, but the popularity of the remedy and the news of its successes in Canada quickly reached the people of the neighboring republic, and orders have poured in, in fact, from every State in the Union. The capacity of the Toronto factory is taxed to supply the Canadian market, and the management feel that they can only do justice to both foreign and home demands by invading the United States and establishing a depot and factory there.

A HUGE FLOCK OF LOCUSTS.

Several farmers in the vicinity of Robin's Mills, Ameliasburgh, witnessed a very strange spectacle one day last week. Egerston Wannamaker who was an eye witness states that he was planting corn in the field when his attention was drawn to what appeared to him at first to be a flock of small birds. They were flying about seven or eight feet from the ground in a north easterly direction. Mr. Wannamaker says the flock was fully 1400 yards long and 400 yards wide. A neighbor looked down on them, found it to resemble a spittle, but with large web wings and very large red eyes. The opinion seems to be that they were locusts.

HE TRIED TO ESCAPE.

One day last week Edward Delaney, convict at the Kingston penitentiary, tried to escape. He was working on the sch. Grantham, discharging coal. Unnoticed by the others he stowed himself in the hole, but on being missed a search revealed his whereabouts. He then got to the deck and jumped overboard, starting to swim for Portsmouth. He then became a target for the guards in charge and those on the wall. They fired twenty shots with a view of shooting the fugitive, but with no intention of forcing him to retreat. The scene worked admirably and the convict surrendered without being injured. He was sentenced in 1891, in the county of Grey, for eleven years for threatening to shoot a man.

HOW HE BECAME A FREE MASON.

The goat, the goat, the bearded goat. The horned, the hoofed, the hairy goat; As I'm a sinner of some note, This night I rode the Masonic goat.

He was a beast of wondrous size, With lengthened limbs and glassy eyes, And beard that swept the carpet clear, And horns that touched the chandelier.

Ye gods! if there's a time we feed Missivings through our noodle steal; 'Tis when we through the mysteries float Upon the dark Free Mason's goat.

Three times I was compelled to ride The beast around the temple wide, And when I tried the fearful mount My heart's pulsations all could count.

Twice did I make the circuit fair, With hold on horns, on tail and hair; 'Til on the third attempt I leapt, When I presumed all danger past, And left me clear of horns and beard, And left me far below, for dead.

But when I rose with courage firm The goat had vanished, head and tail; And I was staid by one and all The liveliest Mason in the hall.

A REASONABLE OFFER.

Judge Peterson of Austin, Tex., a well known, highly respected gentleman, on the shady side of fifty, widower, with five children, full of fun and frolic, ever ready with a joke—to give or take—was lattered the other evening by a misadventure of twenty for not taking another wife. She urged that he was hale and hearty and desired a matrimonial mesquite. The judge acknowledged the fact, admitted that he was convinced by the eloquence of his fair friend that he had but for been very remiss, and expressed contrition for the fault confessed, ending with offering himself to the lady; wishing her to take the situation by reject him after pointing out to him his heinous offence. This lady replied that she would be most happy to take the situation so uniquely advertised, and became bone of his bone and flesh of his flesh, but there was out, to her, more serious obstacle.

"Well," says the judge, "name it. My profession is to surmount such impediments."

"Ah, judge, this is beyond your powers. I have vowed if ever I married a widower he must have ten children."

"Ten children? Oh, that's nothing," says the judge, "I'll give you five now and my notes on demand in instalments for the remainder."—Texas Siftings.

Pallor, languidness, and the appearance of ill-health being no longer fashionable among ladies, Ayer's Sarsaparilla is more eagerly resorted to as a tonic-alterative, purifying, stomachic and builder-up of the system generally. This is as it should be. Ayer's is the best.

For the Good of Others

Rev. Mr. Williams Heartily Endorses Hood's Sarsaparilla.

We are pleased to present this from Rev. A. A. Williams, of the Silas street Christian Church, Lynn, Mass.: "I see no reason why a clergyman, more than a layman, who knows whereof he speaks, should hesitate to approve an Article of Merit

and worth, from which he or his family have been signally benefited, and whose commendation may serve to extend those benefits to others by increasing their confidence. My wife has for many years been a sufferer from severe

Nervous Headache

for which she found little help. She has tried many things that promised well but performed little. Last fall a friend gave her a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. It seems surprising what simply one bottle could do for her. The attacks of headache decreased in number and were less violent in their intensity, while her general health has been improved. Her appetite has also been better. From our experience with

Hood's Sarsaparilla

I have no hesitation in endorsing its merits. A. A. WILLIAMS.
